The New York Times	Confessions of a Digital Nazi Hunter	YAIR ROSENBERG	Social Media, anti-Semitism
New York Post	Trump should crack down on UNRWA, finally end fiction of Palestinian 'refugees'	RICHARD GOLDBERG	UNRWA, Palestinian refugees
The Washington Post	Netanyahu has reason to be nervous The fact that only a thousand people showed up may mean that dissent on the right is weak. Alternatively, that a thousand protesters from the prime minister's own camp were willing to come out on a cold Jerusalem night may signal much wider dissatisfaction on the right — and with it, the approaching end of the Netanyahu era.	GERSHOM GORENBERG	Politics, Benjamin Netanyahu
The Washington Post	Future presidents may thank Trump for acknowledging Jerusalem as Israel's capital Trump's decision to stand with Israel has been greeted with protests around the world and a high-profile vote of disapproval at the United Nations was, if not a teachable moment, certainly a good reminder of Israel's isolation. Anti-Semitism in Europe is on the rise, and the fashionable boycott of Israel continues to be exploited by the ignorant.	ED ROGERS	US-Israel relations, Jerusalem
Bloomberg	Imagine a Palestinian Movement Led by Gandhi	NOAH FELDMAN	Palestinian society

- The Israel Foreign Media Survey scours the internet (Sunday thru Thursday) for pertinent news articles and editorials affecting Israel appearing in the world's major newspapers and websites for the particular day(s) stated.
- The survey attempts to present only original source articles, occasionally resorting to reprints in special cases.
 - Stories by wire agencies and major newspapers (ex: AP, Reuters, NY Times etc.) often are licensed or sold to smaller market media agencies, and appear in the survey in their original with other publications in parentheses.
